Soap operas

Watching TV is a (1) popular pastime in the UK. But what kind of programmes (2) British people like to watch? Well, the most-watched TV programmes every week are very popular dramas that are usually (3) at least four times every week. They are dramas based in one neighbourhood (4) try to depict ordinary life in the UK - we call these dramas 'soap operas' or 'soaps'.

In the early days of TV, there were often dramas on during the day. In those days, it was traditional for the husband to go out to work and for the wife to stay at home and look (5) the house and the children. Most of these daytime dramas were aimed at entertaining the housewives who were at home, probably doing the washing. Companies selling washing powder advertised their products at times (6) these dramas were on, and sometimes those companies even sponsored the drama. That's the origin of the word 'soap'.

So what about the word opera? Well, that's because these dramas are often an exaggeration of real life. They are supposed to represent ordinary lives but, to make them (7), lots of dramatic events, (8) murders, divorces, affairs etc., all happen much (9) regularly than they would in a normal neighbourhood.

Most soap operas these days are (10) in the evening. Each show will have several different storylines happening at once that continue over several shows. The same cast members will appear in every show, too.

Lizzie: Hi Jane! How are you?
 Jane: Quite well, thanks, and you?
 Lizzie: I'm fine. Are you busy this afternoon? Have you already planned anything special?
 Jane: No, I was just relaxing after a hard week at school. You know, reading is my favourite pastime and I've just begun the latest book of 'The Twilight Saga'.
 Lizzie: That's not for me... I can't stand that stuff! Anyway, I was just wondering if you could help me. I need to find a special present for our friend Laura. It's her birthday tomorrow and I've arranged a surprise party at 'New Sound Music Club'.
 Jane: That sounds great! Who's coming to the party?
 Lizzie: There will be all her friends, her boyfriend Tom, as well as some school mates. She doesn't expect such a big thing, she thinks it's just the usual evening out. By the way, you are coming, aren't you?
 Jane: Yes, of course! So, what are we going to buy her?
 Lizzie: That's the problem! I have no idea! She likes music, of course, and travelling abroad but... it's not easy!
 Jane: Well, we could get her two tickets for the big music festival that is held next week.
 Lizzie: I've already checked and, unfortunately, it's sold out!
 Jane: Well, we can't afford to buy her a holiday trip, but we could buy her a book about travelling, that should be easy to find!
 Lizzie: Great idea! I know she's going to Ireland with her boyfriend on a cycling holiday next July! Shall we go to the bookshop today?
 Jane: OK! Let's say 4 o'clock? See you later!
 Lizzie: Great! Bye!
